

LIQUOR TAKEN FROM THE TOP OF PASSENGER TRAIN

Twenty-three gallons of whisky were recently taken from the top of a Norfolk and Western passenger train which it stopped at Madison to let off passengers. It is understood that the booze was billed for Winston-Salem and that its stoppage at Madison was an unlooked-for occurrence. In some way Madison's alert chief of police learned of the cargo on top of the cars and met the train, ladder in hand. The skunk buster was poured out among the lamentations of the thirsty and the amens of the dregs.

13 POUND GAIN MADE BY DURHAM IN TAKING TANLAC

Declares It Ended Stomach Trouble, Headaches and Dizziness, Restoring Full Weight.

"A gain of thirteen pounds in weight and more endurance for hard work than I have ever had, is what Tanlac has done for me," recently affirmed W. A. Durham, salesman for the Monticello Dairy Co. living at Belmont, Charlottesville, Va. "Before taking Tanlac my appetite was so poor that many times I didn't even turn up my plate when I went to the table. Besides I was always bloated with gas, and also suffered from constipation, headaches and dizziness. I slept poorly, was thin as a rail, and just dragged around feeling unfit for anything. "I spent money right and left trying to get well, and my experience with Tanlac makes me know I ought to have taken it long before I did. The treatment has sure been a 'path-finder' to health for me. I now eat and enjoy anything my wife sets before me and I can't sit down at the table without feeling thankful to Tanlac."

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for cod-liver oil—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pinkish, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and help the colon—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick relief, and is easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable for breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat subsides and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs. To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could have made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membrane of the throat.

To test this disapparent ask your dealer for a 15¢ sample of Pinex with full directions, and don't see anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction. Money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Youth Is Held On Charge Of Robbing Safe

J. Luther Stephens and W. H. Harper are in jail charged jointly with felonious assault on Leonard (Slim) Lancaster, whose correct name is said to be Albert Allen. Lancaster, by which name he is better known, was shot in the thigh by Stephens, after which Harper held the gun on him and warned him if he "moved an inch" he would kill him. The hold-up and shooting occurred yesterday afternoon shortly after 12 o'clock on Colquhoun street. Stephens is said to have told the police that he intended killing Lancaster and was sorry that he did not. Both Stephens and Harper are said to have been drinking at the time of the shooting. The difficulty is said to have arisen over an alleged debt for an automobile tire, for which Lancaster is said to have owed Stephens. Stephens claims it was $32.80 but Lancaster in a later statement said it only was $10. The arrests were made by Sergeant H. Haraway and Patrolman C. T. Cook.

The attack is said to have been a brutal one. Stephens, accompanied by Harper, set out about noon to find Lancaster to bring about the settlement of the matter. They are said to have gone to his house on Colquhoun street, where they were informed that Lancaster had sold his machine. They were returning to their home on Wilson street when they met Lancaster. Stephens is alleged to have asked Lancaster about the money and one word brought on another until a quarrel was in progress. Without warning, Stephens drew his pistol and fired point blank at Lancaster, the bullet striking him in the right thigh. After wounding the man, Stephens kept his gun leveled at him until he demanded him to give his money to Harper. After Lancaster was relieved of his money, the two assailants left and Lancaster hobbled to his boarding place nearby.

In this meantime Sergeant Haraway and Patrolman Cook and J. T. Clark, who had heard of the shooting, were investigating. An extensive search was conducted, which brought Sergeant Haraway and Officer Cook back to the home of the thieves on Wilson street, at which the officers had been and could find no trace of the men. Bertha Bell and inquired but could be given no information by her. But as the police have been able to learn, Stephens drew his pistol and fired point blank at Lancaster, the bullet striking him in the right thigh. After wounding the man, Stephens kept his gun leveled at him until he demanded him to give his money to Harper. After Lancaster was relieved of his money, the two assailants left and Lancaster hobbled to his boarding place nearby.

The officers again hurried to the scene and went to the home of Mrs. Bell again. Mrs. Bell was asked if she had seen two men in the neighborhood or if any had been to her house. She replied that two men had come to her house seeking rooms but she could not accommodate them and that they left. One went across the street, she said and what became of the other she did not know. For some reason, Sergeant Haraway was not satisfied with the story and he asked Mrs. Bell if she objected to him making a search and she replied that she did not. He then went upstairs and just as he started in one room, Stephens stepped out and extended his hand to the officer for a greeting. Stephens was then placed under arrest and taken to the police station.

Harper was arrested at a house in Lynn street after the officers had received information that he had been seen to go in there. Bonds were set at $2,500 each but neither was able to furnish bail and both were lodged in jail. Stephens boasted of the shooting to Sergeant Haraway, asking him many times if he did not think he had done a great thing. Stephens is said to have told the officer that he was glad he shot Lancaster and that he meant to kill him. Lancaster's right leg is said to be badly injured as a result of the wound. In a statement to Sergeant J. H. Martin yesterday afternoon he said that Stephens approached him about the debt, which he claims was $10, and that he was shot without cause. He said that Stephens asked him about the money and that he told him he would settle and before he could do so, Stephens pulled his gun and shot him, holding the weapon on him while Harper relieved him of all the money he had, which was about $32, he said. Lancaster's home is said to be near Schofield but he is said to be living with Harper on Wilson street at present.

DALLAS ARRANGED. (By The Associated Press.) WILMINGTON, N. C., Mar. 21.—Herbert E. Dallas was arrested here today on a warrant for the circuit court to answer to a charge of murdering Joe E. Southwell, an engineer, during the railroad strike last summer. The jury was completed as such a late hour that only two minor witnesses testified and the case will be resumed tomorrow. This is the second trial of the case, the first having resulted in a mistrial.

What's Going on in the World

WEEK'S CHIEF EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

BY CHARLES P. STEWART (Special to The Bee.)

LABOR'S PLAN TO ABOLISH CAPITALISM In Great Britain needn't be taken very seriously just yet. It's true that Labor's second party in numerical strength in Parliament, but they don't mean to force the Conservatives to go out of power, that the Laborites would come in—to stay. Ramsay MacDonald, the hold-up man of the party, is said to have told the police that he intended killing Lancaster and was sorry that he did not. Both Stephens and Harper are said to have been drinking at the time of the shooting. The difficulty is said to have arisen over an alleged debt for an automobile tire, for which Lancaster is said to have owed Stephens. Stephens claims it was $32.80 but Lancaster in a later statement said it only was $10. The arrests were made by Sergeant H. Haraway and Patrolman C. T. Cook.

Then it's possible that the premier-ship would be offered to David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader, who was premier before, or perhaps there'd be a national election without any further experimenting. Anyway, an election's what things would come to pretty soon, because that's what always happens in England, where administrations don't last for any definite term, except there's a landslide and a new government is fixed, whenever there's any doubt which party in Parliament has most votes.

And an election would be sure to mean a victory by the moderates over the radicals. The latter would make up the group behind the anti-capitalism proposals of Philip Snowden, who, even among radicals, is considered pretty pronounced in his views.

SAME AS IN THE U. S. A. The British Conservatives and Liberals are conservative and liberal respectively in about the same sense that Republicans are republican and Democrats are democratic in the United States. That is to say, they have their political contests between themselves and sometimes get pretty sore over them, but each would rather see the other in office than have a third party break in. Before they'd permit such a thing to happen, there's no doubt they'd unite, and together they'd have a large majority over the Labor vote.

Just to illustrate that they're not irreconcilably far apart, Andrew Bonar Law, now the Conservative leader and premier, didn't object to holding office for several years in the cabinet of David Lloyd George, who is head of the Liberal minority in Parliament now. Mr. Lloyd George, on the other hand, though pretty advanced in some of the views he expressed in his younger days, has so far toned down his ideas with years that the Conservatives seriously considered for awhile the plan of conscripting him to lead themselves, and almost certainly would, if he'd given the word, which he didn't do, not because he wasn't conservative enough, but because he had other political ambitions of his own.

RADICAL BUT WON'T PASS This isn't to say that Labor, as a whole, isn't more radical in Great Britain than it is in the United States. It's considerably more so. But the time hasn't come for England to be Bolshevized. The Laborites are in favor of a levy on capital sufficient to relieve England of her pressing post-war financial embarrassments and this proposition has some support outside the party. It times stay as hard as they are now, it's conceivable that such a policy might win the endorsement of a majority of the voters. It would amount to some system of taxation designed to bear especially upon accumulated wealth, but there's no chance that it would take it all.

For even so drastic a program the time isn't ripe yet. The last election showed it. Snowden's proposals are revolutionary, all right, but they won't be adopted. That's certain. It's as if Meyer London, the Socialist member of the House of Representatives, had proposed, at the last session of Congress, to socialize the United States. It would have been a radical suggestion, but nobody would have paid much attention to it, because everybody'd have known that it wouldn't pass.

BRITAIN'S FEARS OF FRANCE The British government, according to all accounts, is growing more and more disturbed at the evident progress of negotiations between Paris and Berlin looking toward a settlement of the Ruhr troubles directly between France and Germany, without giving England any voice in the matter. It just goes to show that the English are convinced France means, if she can, to increase her power on the European continent to a point where she's stronger than England wants her to be. British commercial interests, cables say, are bringing pressure to bear on Premier Bonar Law to abandon his policy of standstillism, so far as the Ruhr is concerned, and tell the French just where the line is beyond which Great Britain will consider it unfriendly in her to go.

THEIR POLICIES CLASH One thing demanded by the disastrous English element with especial emphasis is an economic alliance between their country and the United States.

That, indeed, is known to be, if obtainable, part of the present British premier's policy. He includes it in a broad general plan he has advanced already for better co-operation between the mother country and her overseas dominions, especially Canada and Australia.

In short, the development of a closer relationship between the English speaking countries is Bonar Law's aim. Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, is determined, however, on adherence to the entente connection between England and France, through thick and thin. If the Bonar Law cabinet is to endure long, it seems to be the general judgment of English newspapers that it will be impossible for Bonar Law and Curzon, due to this basic difference in their views, to pull together in harness very long.

'FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH' IS FOUND BY SCIENCE

European Discovery, Easily Used at Home, Restores Vigor Quicker Than Glauk Operations.

Those who suffer from nerve weakness and lack of vigor will be interested in a European discovery which restores full physical power quicker than gland operations. It is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless and yet the most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on important nerve centers, glands and blood vessels, it often produces amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours and gratifying results within a week. Physicians say it gives speedy satisfaction in cases that defy all other treatment. Elderly people declare it is a real "fountain of youth."

Distributed under the trade name of "Korex compound," the discovery has been tested thoroughly in America and the manufacturers have received a veritable flood of letters of praise and gratitude from revitalized men and women in every State. Patients past 60 testify that the compound quickly restored to them the vigor of the prime of life. Knowing that this news may be "too good to be true," the distributors invite any person needing the compound to take a double-strength treatment, sufficient for ordinary cases, with the understanding that it costs nothing if it fails. If you wish to try this guaranteed invigorator, write in strict confidence to the Metten Laboratories, 2693 Massachusetts Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. You may enclose $2, or simply send your name, without money, and pay the postman $2 and postage on delivery. In either case, if you report "no results" after one week, the laboratories will immediately refund your money. This offer is guaranteed by ample bank deposits, so nobody need hesitate to accept it.—adv.

REGISTER AND BEE SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST TO START MONDAY

Much Interest Is Being Manifested in the Liberal Offer of Five Automobiles, Cash Prizes Amounting to $10,000—Scope of Campaign Will Be Set Forth Sunday.

Considerable interest is manifested in the Register and Bee's subscription contest which will begin next Monday and in which five handsome automobiles and a number of cash prizes and commissions are being offered for the successful competitors. The contest will be conducted by the T. J. Laurimore organization which makes a specialty in this work and which has recently conducted several newspaper subscription campaigns in Southern territory. Subscription contests of this character are becoming increasingly popular and evoke a great deal of interest in the communities where they are held. One such contest recently in Alexandria, another at Bristol, while scores of papers in North Carolina have of recent date undertaken such contests which have been highly successful.

The staff of Laurimore organization will be here this week and will be prepared to give the starting signal on Monday when it is expected a number of people will enter the contest. The concern will have the guarantee of the publishers' guarantee that the premiums offered will be delivered to the contestants when the judges have made their final accounting.

EASTER RELIEF FUND FOR NEAR EAST PLANNED

The Greeks of this country are planning to send an Easter present to the unfortunate refugees of their own and other nationalities, such contributions as the year able to raise among themselves and those Americans who want to give. Contributions in kind will be received by James Eastard of the First National Bank and T. A. Dentiste, P. O. Box 752. There is still much suffering among Greek refugees who have fled from bloodthirsty Turks. The Greek government, the Red Cross and other relief agencies are doing all in their power to alleviate want and suffering, but there is still sad need of funds with which to carry on the work of success.

"ROBIN HOOD" TONIGHT

Popular Light Opera Attraction At The Majestic Theatre. "Robin Hood," which comes to the Majestic Theatre tonight occupies a peculiar place in the affections of lovers of music, romance and the combination of charms which make a theatrical production a perennial success. It possesses so many winsome elements, that it can never grow old. Other operas depend much upon the personality of those who present them and this is by no means to be ignored. For "Robin" himself, Mr. De Koven demands a tender of simple and beautiful voice, and with youthful vigor and irrepressible temperament, for "Robin" is an ardent lover, as well as a hero. Operetta has plays "Maid Marian," a noble woman of characteristic loveliness, the embodiment of grace, but without a single word can deliver the most exciting of bold songs, "Annabelle," the un-keeper's daughter, whose sixteenth birthday came the day that Alan-a-Dale, makes the eighteenth mendacious seem harsh, while the ratty Sheriff's convoluted tinkering makes the opposite sentiment, "Alan-a-Dale," an outlaw whom Mr. De Koven made out of a contralto, makes believe the old-time jolly Friar Tuck, an itinerant burghman which the twelfth century demanded ad loved while never parting upon to theme of religion, is generally the soul of the party. Miss Valentine's company includes Emma Jean Arns, Fred Curry, Mrs. Clarence Bennett, Charlotte Ingham, Harry Peel, Bertram Goltz, Arthur Wallace, George Troupe, Phillip Conners and Fred Zint. The conductor is Miss Valentine herself, who has an orchestra of symphony players, personally directs it at all performances. Prices—$2 to $2.50. Seat sale now at box office.—adv.

IMPROVEMENTS AT LEA-LEWIS

The Lea-Lewis Furniture Company has about completed the remodeling of its store on lower Main street. The whole front of the building has been changed, handsome plate glass windows have been placed, the whole to afford opportunity for a more extensive display. A mezzanine floor has been built in the main store-room. The whole is more room for storage and display. The building has been changed in various ways so as to give more room and allow for a larger stock.

SERGEANT MARTIN HAS PRIZE HEN

When Sergeant J. Hanibal Martin is not dealing with birds of faulty feather he has an eye for fowls of a finer sort—chickens—yes, of the gallinaceous breed. He has as handsome a flock of chickens as can be found in Danville. He also has an eye to those all good qualities, whether found in man or animal, and the quality of faithfulness he marked in a hen of his, and this is the tale he tells: When Spring had almost arrived this hen gave eager signs of wanting to cover a setting of eggs. Her wish was complied with. The Sergeant said she was too good a hen to waste on the raising of two chicks, so he took the small feathered creature away and tried to raise them himself, penning the mother in a box. The chicks died. In two days a nest was found under the chicken house and this was removed into the house, whereupon the hen whose nest had been moved refused to set. The hen who had already set three weeks was given the task of completing the work of her less tractable sister. After two weeks four chicks were hatched. The sergeant again robbed the hen, took her to the back of the lot and penned her in the barn, giving the four chicks to another hen who had just hatched a larger brood. Then a setting hen got sick just before her chicks were due to hatch. When the chicks broke through the shells the mother was too sick to take care of them, so the much robbed hen was given the task of step-mothering nine chicks. She took over her wards eagerly and is caring for them as if they were her own.

STRIKERS ASK TO BE LOCKED UP

(By The Associated Press)

BONHOMME, Pa., Mar. 21.—Fifteen striking miners of Acosta, Pa., who were declared in contempt of court Saturday for violating an injunction against interference with working miners today appeared at the county jail and demanded that they be locked up.

As they had been given until tomorrow to explain to the court and there were only five vacant cells in the county jail the sheriff refused to admit them.

The men have been living in barracks erected for them and other striking miners and their families at Acosta.

Mad Scramble For Common Stock Of Piggly Wiggly

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—A mad scramble for class "A" common stock of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., was on foot among the brokers of Wall Street today by short interests who were trapped in the sensational 52 point jump on the stock exchange yesterday and who were unable to cover on a subsequent 42 point decline. While trading in the stock exchange has been suspended and a virtual moratorium declared in so far as deliveries as concerned, the shorts resorted to over-the-counter buying to get out as easily as possible.

Sales on the "big board" yesterday ranged from 74 3/4 to 124 compared with bid and asked prices of 80 to 150 on the outside today. One sale of 50 shares by a Philadelphia source at 150 was reported. Several other sales were reported by local houses at prices of 80 to 110.

The volume of stock thus traded is believed to be relatively small. While no accurate estimate as to the size of the trapped short interest is available, Wall Street brokers generally believed it would not exceed 1,000 shares. Ordinarily stocks sold on the New York Stock Exchange on one day are declared before 2:15 p. m. the next day. The broker buying and selling the same day receives a check representing his profit on the transaction, or is required to submit a certified check covering his loss, and thus is relieved by the clearing house of either receiving or making physical delivery of the stock certificates. The stock clearing corporation ruled today, however, that parties to original sales are to be relieved of the liability of purchases and sales made in yesterday's trading.

The next move must come from Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly Wiggly Company, who is reported to hold the orders for the stock which the shorts are unable to deliver. When the exact amount of the short interest is ascertained, an arrangement probably will be arranged between representatives of Mr. Saunders and the short interests to effect a basis of settlement. When this settlement has been effected, the stock exchange will have definite action, either to strike the stock from the list or to permit a resumption of trading.

In the last alleged corner engineered by Alter A. T. in stock of the Stutz Motor Company, the shorts were required to pay a price reported as high as $550 a share, or well above the last quoted price on the "big board." Mr. Saunders was expelled from the exchange as a result of his action in those transactions.

In the case of Piggly Wiggly, however, neither Mr. Saunders nor Jesse Livermore, famous stock market operator, who acted for him prior to the alleged squeezing of the shorts, are members of the stock exchange. It was reported, however, that Mr. Saunders had violated his agreement with the stock exchange to keep available a floating supply of the stock to meet all trading requirements. Mr. Livermore, in a statement yesterday, declared that sufficient stock was available for loaning purposes while he was conducting operations for Mr. Saunders' account.

The abrupt termination of relations between Mr. Livermore and Mr. Saunders is believed to have followed differences of opinion concerning the marketing of the stocks. Members of the exchange pointed out that the prompt action of the governing board in suspending trading probably resulted in the saving of thousands of dollars to unfortunate speculators and investors. Individual losses were reported to have ranged from a few hundred to $50,000.

GROUP OF MEN SECURE CONTROL

COLUMBUS, Mar. 21.—For a considerable time it has been known that a group of Columbus men today obtained control of the Columbus American Association Baseball Club by acquiring the holdings of Thomas E. Wilson, who owned 80 per cent of the stock.

The Wilson stock was purchased by C. M. Weaver, attorney; Cliff Rieley, Murray Hoffman, Harry E. Richter, and John L. Walters. Two of the purchasers are bankers, one is a broker and the other a shoe salesman.

The new owners organized by making Rieley president and Richter vice-president. Weaver said the entire present management of the club would be continued throughout the coming season. The club has been in Mr. Wilson's hands since the winter of 1932, and it is said he had been operated by him at a great financial

TALKS TO MOTHERS OF FLAPPERS

MODERNISM, as expressed by the cheek-to-cheek dance, smoking by girls and other extravagances, is to my mind foolish, but not necessarily dangerous.

Personally I am not in favor of women "wooing" nicotine, as the phrase goes. This from a health standpoint alone, however.

It cannot be argued that a woman, merely because she is a woman, should not smoke. To admit that would be to grant that man, merely because he is man, ought not do things women do.

This age is setting aside a lot of foolish Victorian ideas premised on accepted inequality between the sexes.

Principally 1933 stands for emancipation—though it is to be regretted that some few have misconstrued liberty for license, and thus prejudice the thinking world against those who seek to use their new freedom to good advantage.

The flapper is not to be misjudged by that type of parasite who exploits new manners for evil ends.

The flapper may be a bit intoxicated with the joyful ecstasy of her liberty.

Like a captive just released from long bondage, she perhaps rushes about, too glad in her moment of

Finished Product Export Will Be Larger This Year

BY J. C. ROYLE

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Export of finished manufactured products in many lines of industry will be larger this year than in any similar period in history according to export sales managers who have gathered here to discuss their problems.

They based this prediction on goods already shipped since January first, and the orders on the books of their companies.

Unfavorable conditions in France and Central Europe will be counterbalanced by increased demand from other parts of the world according to H. P. Rockwell, export manager of the Yawman and Erbe company, makers of office equipment. The increases, he said, would be chiefly to South America, Scandinavia, Spain, Holland, South Africa, China and Australia.

Army Was Advance Agent

"The American Army during the war was the advance sales agent of American manufactured products," Rockwell said. "Nearly every bullet the American Army fired a desk, a typewriter or an adding machine into a foreign country. Business men saw the methods and equipment used in our army cantonnements and headquarters, compared them with their own and have been buying freely from us ever since. The bank of England itself did not possess an adding machine until after 1914."

Not Enough Only To Get Business

"Office equipment and manufacturing equipment is a reliable business index. Demand in those lines may be taken to indicate that sales of other American products in foreign countries will be equally urgent. This demand, naturally, will not extend to some lines such as toys and certain mechanical appliances in which European manufacturers have specialized."

One of the big reasons why there is and will be a big demand for American goods is because the old short-sighted policy of exporters to get the business on a sales argument based on quality and service and the lighter and old kinds of goods has been definitely abandoned.

Americans Have Ceased To Strut

Success of United States export firms in South America was attested by D. W. Fernhout of the Manning Abrasive company to the fact "that American salesmen in South America have ceased to strut." Another factor in the South American trade, according to E. B. Pittenger, of Lawrence and Company, has been the substitution of salesmen in personal touch with the South American customer for a manufacturers' export agent.

"We formerly sold to people we did not know through people we did not know," said he. "Personal touch so vital to lasting export business was lacking. Now salesmen are selling service to foreign customers as well as goods."

Inter-Coastal Traffic Growing

Recent tremendous growth in inter-coastal traffic through the Panama Canal is reflected in the announcement that the headquarters of the American Hawaiian steamship company will be moved at once to the Pacific coast as its main offices may be close to the point of origin of much of its business. The company owns 21 vessels of 215,000 dead-weight tons.

MRS. HUCK

FARMER POINTS OUT CLARK IN HIS TRIAL AT HERRIN

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Mar. 21.—George Nelson, a gray haired farmer, pointed out from the witness stand today Otis Clark and Oscar Howard, two of the six defendants in the Herrin riots trial as the men he had seen lead C. K. McDowell, one of the 25 men slain during the outbreak, toward the spot where his body was found.

The witness said he had known Clark ever since the latter was a boy, and Howard for two or three years. He asserted Howard had worked for him and had boarded at his home. Howard was the last of the defendants to be named in connection with the riots by the prosecution, the five others having been positively identified by other witnesses.

Nelson declared he had seen the non-union men who surrendered at the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, the morning of June 22, last, marched past his house by a mob. He said he had known McDowell, who was superintendent of the mine.

"When the crowd reached my home," he testified, "some men told me that they had seen Clark and Howard over the head with a gun and another said that it was no use to take him any further as he had given out. Then Clark, who had a gun, and Howard led him away with the crowd down a side path.

A few minutes later I heard shots from that direction and when I went down the path about 25 or 30 minutes later I found McDowell's body with two bullet holes on each side of the chest and a wound on the forehead.

Nelson asserted he had later seen Clark and Howard get into an automobile driven by Mrs. Clark and drive away.

William Goodwin, also a farmer, testified that he had seen the crowd with its prisoners a short distance from the mine and had heard Clark make a speech in which he declared: "We'll take these men out and kill them."

DIVORCE SEEKER FOUND TO HAVE FAMILY OF 14

NOT 5, AS HE DECLARED

RENO, March 21.—The discovery that O. M. Renfro, 65, of Venus, Texas, has fourteen children instead of five as he alleged in his complaint resulted in the denying of a divorce to him here recently.

A cross complaint with affidavits filed by his wife, setting forth facts unknown to the court, and a warrant for Renfro's arrest as a wife deserter, arrived on the same day. Renfro could not be found. Police say that he has gone to Seattle.

Rouge on the cheek or powder on the nose is by no means a sign of instability of the wearer.

Given a good mother, a good home and right environment all around, the girl or boy entering into the new-fangled world today will very early learn to discriminate between what will harm and what not.

Extremes to every fad, to every epoch, to every reconstruction, are not good. They are bad. But they are a negligible minority among our young folks today.

Let our boys and girls play, I say. Give them your love and especially your confidence, hold their love and confidence, and nothing can befall them.

Talk with your children; treat them as pals, not as mere subjects to obey you.

That is the whole secret to the thing.

You know what was said about a soft answer. It turns away wrath—and coupled with love makes mutual confidence of fathers and mothers, sons and daughters.

See to it that your boy or girl is leading a wholesome normal life with plenty of wholesome athletic and social recreation.

OFFICIAL VISIT TO ELKS

Andrew Bell, of Harrisonburg, district deputy grand exalted ruler, will make his official visit to Danville Lodge of Elks tonight. Mr. Bell's district comprises the western half of the State with lodges in Alexandria, Charlottesville, Staunton, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Harrisonburg, Winchester, Clifton Forge, Pulaski, and Danville. It is expected that a large attendance will be on hand to greet the grand lodge official here. He will make a short address on matters of interest to the Order, examine the records and report to the grand exalted ruler. An informal reception will be held in the club rooms following the meeting.

UKMAN URGED TO SIGN STATEMENT

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—Phillip Ukman, an attorney testifying today against 63 Gary and Lake County persons charged with conspiring to violate liquor laws, said that several public officials had attempted to persuade him to sign a statement charging federal prohibition agents with collecting money from bootleggers.

Ukman said he was held in jail at Gary 28 days, during which time Mayor R. O. Johnson and City Judge William Dunn, both of Gary, Dwight Kindred, prosecuting attorney of Lake County; Eliaz Lucas, an attorney and other persons urged him to sign the statement. All those named are among the defendants.

The witness also declared that J. Glenn J. Harris, state representative, had suggested that he sign the statement. Harris is not included in the list of defendants.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners

By Norma Talmadge

Visiting has its own code, and it is a very complicated one, depending upon whom, when, where and why. If it is to be undertaken with the obligation of a complete social existence, one must master this code in all its details. But, whatever one's estate, there are certain visits must pay and he should pay them gracefully.

VISITS

1. A visit of congratulation should be paid to the new mother and a gift always should be presented to the baby.

2. In calling to inquire for the sick, one must always ask to be received, and it is pleasing to take flowers or bouquets as a gift.

3. One pays a visit of condolence at once, except that a woman does not call on a man, but instead writes him a note of sympathy.

4. When a man's relative announces his engagement, one goes immediately to call upon his fiancée.

5. In large cities neighbors seldom call on each other, but in the country

DAY OF MASHER NEARING END

By HOY GIBBONS

(Special to The Bee.)

CHICAGO, March 22.—Thanks to the modern girl's ability to protect herself, the masher is rapidly disappearing and his day soon will be past.

Take that from America's first policeman, Mrs. Alice Clement Faubel. She's now celebrating her 15th year of continuous service on the Chicago force.

Like a cat, she's made 2000 arrests——and she's a comeliness and the kindly, gleam in her eyes.

"The American girl, active in gymnastics, is teaching the masher a lesson," Mrs. Faubel says. "The masher nowadays looks before he leaps. There are too many faintly arm-concealing knockout punches

Mrs. Faubel herself has dealt numerous slaps with her new fam-well-known right.

"A body of police surprised to see what a lady

bulldog she is, with the blue automation she always carries in her purse.

"I've been a masher more than eat-and confound."

She's been a masher for 15 years. At first I was a sort of silent investigator, doing whatever I could do and just for fun. After that I was put on regular work with a beat to patrol and everything else a cop has to do.

"I have had some rather queer experiences. But I've never had to shoot anybody.

MRS. ALICE CLEMENT FAUBEL says Mrs. Faubel. Large and small, light and dark, of happy brims and tailor made—nothing alters a woman's

Herb Murphy Sends Mileage to 18 Men of His Squad

First Game To Be Played 31st

Herb Murphy will send transportation to eighteen players today, with instructions to report here for work. The local club will have one week for practice before the first exhibition game, scheduled for Saturday, March 31, with the Tacoma club of Richmond. Danville also will play the Tacoma club here April 2, and on April 5 and 6 will play the Reading club of the International League.

A letter has just been received from "Butch" Worth, saying that he will be delayed in reporting because he will be on a freight train and seriously injured himself, and that he now is in a hospital. He is not expected to report before April 15.

Shaner has not signed a contract yet, but he has been in the clubhouse since he roomed last year, reserving the same room. He is expected to report Monday.

Harris has signed up and will report. Regan, while he has not signed a contract, is expected to sign immediately.

McInnes, infielder, has been signed by Murphy and will be sent transportation today. He hails from Newark and is said to be a promising youth. It is known that the Athletics have been on his trail, trying to sign him, but the youngster felt that a year in the minors would help him in his baseball career. Lorenzo, catcher, has also been signed for a tryout.

Murphy has just received a letter from Baker, who got himself in bad with Ferrell, and was suspended, to the effect that he thought that he would be able to get himself re-instated. Whether Baker is merely overly optimistic or has grounds for his belief is not known.

Murphy, who was signed by Murphy some time ago as a first baseman has been assigned to Danville by Ferrell. It is said that dispute had arisen over the ownership of the ball player, and that the work yesterday found him being made had progressed a long way, and it will be a few days before all of the work has been begun will be completed.

SOUTHERN TOUR FOR NEW YORK U. BALL TEAM

NEW YORK, March 21.—A week's tour of Southern colleges without an hour of preliminary outdoor practice is the situation confronting New York University baseball squad which will leave here next Saturday night (Mar. 25) to begin a tour of the South. The tour will last for six weeks. An unusually severe winter in New York with a succession of heavy snows has kept the Hall of Fame institution's ball ground in excellent condition for some balling but has precluded any exercise with a base ball. A pronounced "thaw" in the few remaining days would only result in turning the field into a quagmire.

No better practice has been indulged in but Coach McCarthy has given his men some work in the gymnasium in the hope of preventing an epidemic of sore arms as a result of going into six games in as many days. McCarthy's most serious problem is the condition of his pitchers. He will carry four with him on the trip, but the condition will be problematical. Some of them have had a regular workout.

The team's first stop will be at Charlottesville for a game with the University of Virginia next Monday. Tuesday the New Yorkers will meet Washington and Lee at Lexington and will remain there one day to clash with Virginia Military Institute. March 29 the Violets players will meet Trinity at Durham, N. C., and Guilford College at Guilford March 30. The tour will be brought to a close with a game with William and Mary to be played at Norfolk, Va., March 31.

This last game is expected to be for blood as William and Mary came to New York University last spring and was leading by a score of 10 to 0 in the fifth inning, when New York University went on a batting spree that gave the Northerners a ninth inning victory. William and Mary was none too happy about the result, especially as the winning run resulted from a close decision in the final inning.

Coach McCarthy will carry thirteen men with him on the trip, only four of them being veterans of last year's team. One of these four will be Captain John Flynn who batted .315 last spring and was offered a $10,000 contract by McGraw. Flynn elected, however, to finish his college course before deciding whether or not he would take up professional baseball.

HISTORY REPEATS IN CASE OF FOWLER, INFIELD RECRUIT

ORLANDO, Fla., Mar. 21.—Is history to repeat itself in the case of "Ches" Fowler, infield recruit of the Cincinnati Reds?

"Ches" Fowler attended school at Christian Brothers College, St. Paul. He was a good scholar and an even better athlete.

In football Fowler was the sensation of the Southwestern Conference. Down in that section of the country "Ches" Fowler didn't lose a game when he came to the Cincinnati Reds.

Fowler is a shortstop. He is the ideal build for that position, tall and rangy. He has a strong, powerful arm and a swinging bat. He is a very fast runner and a very good fielder.

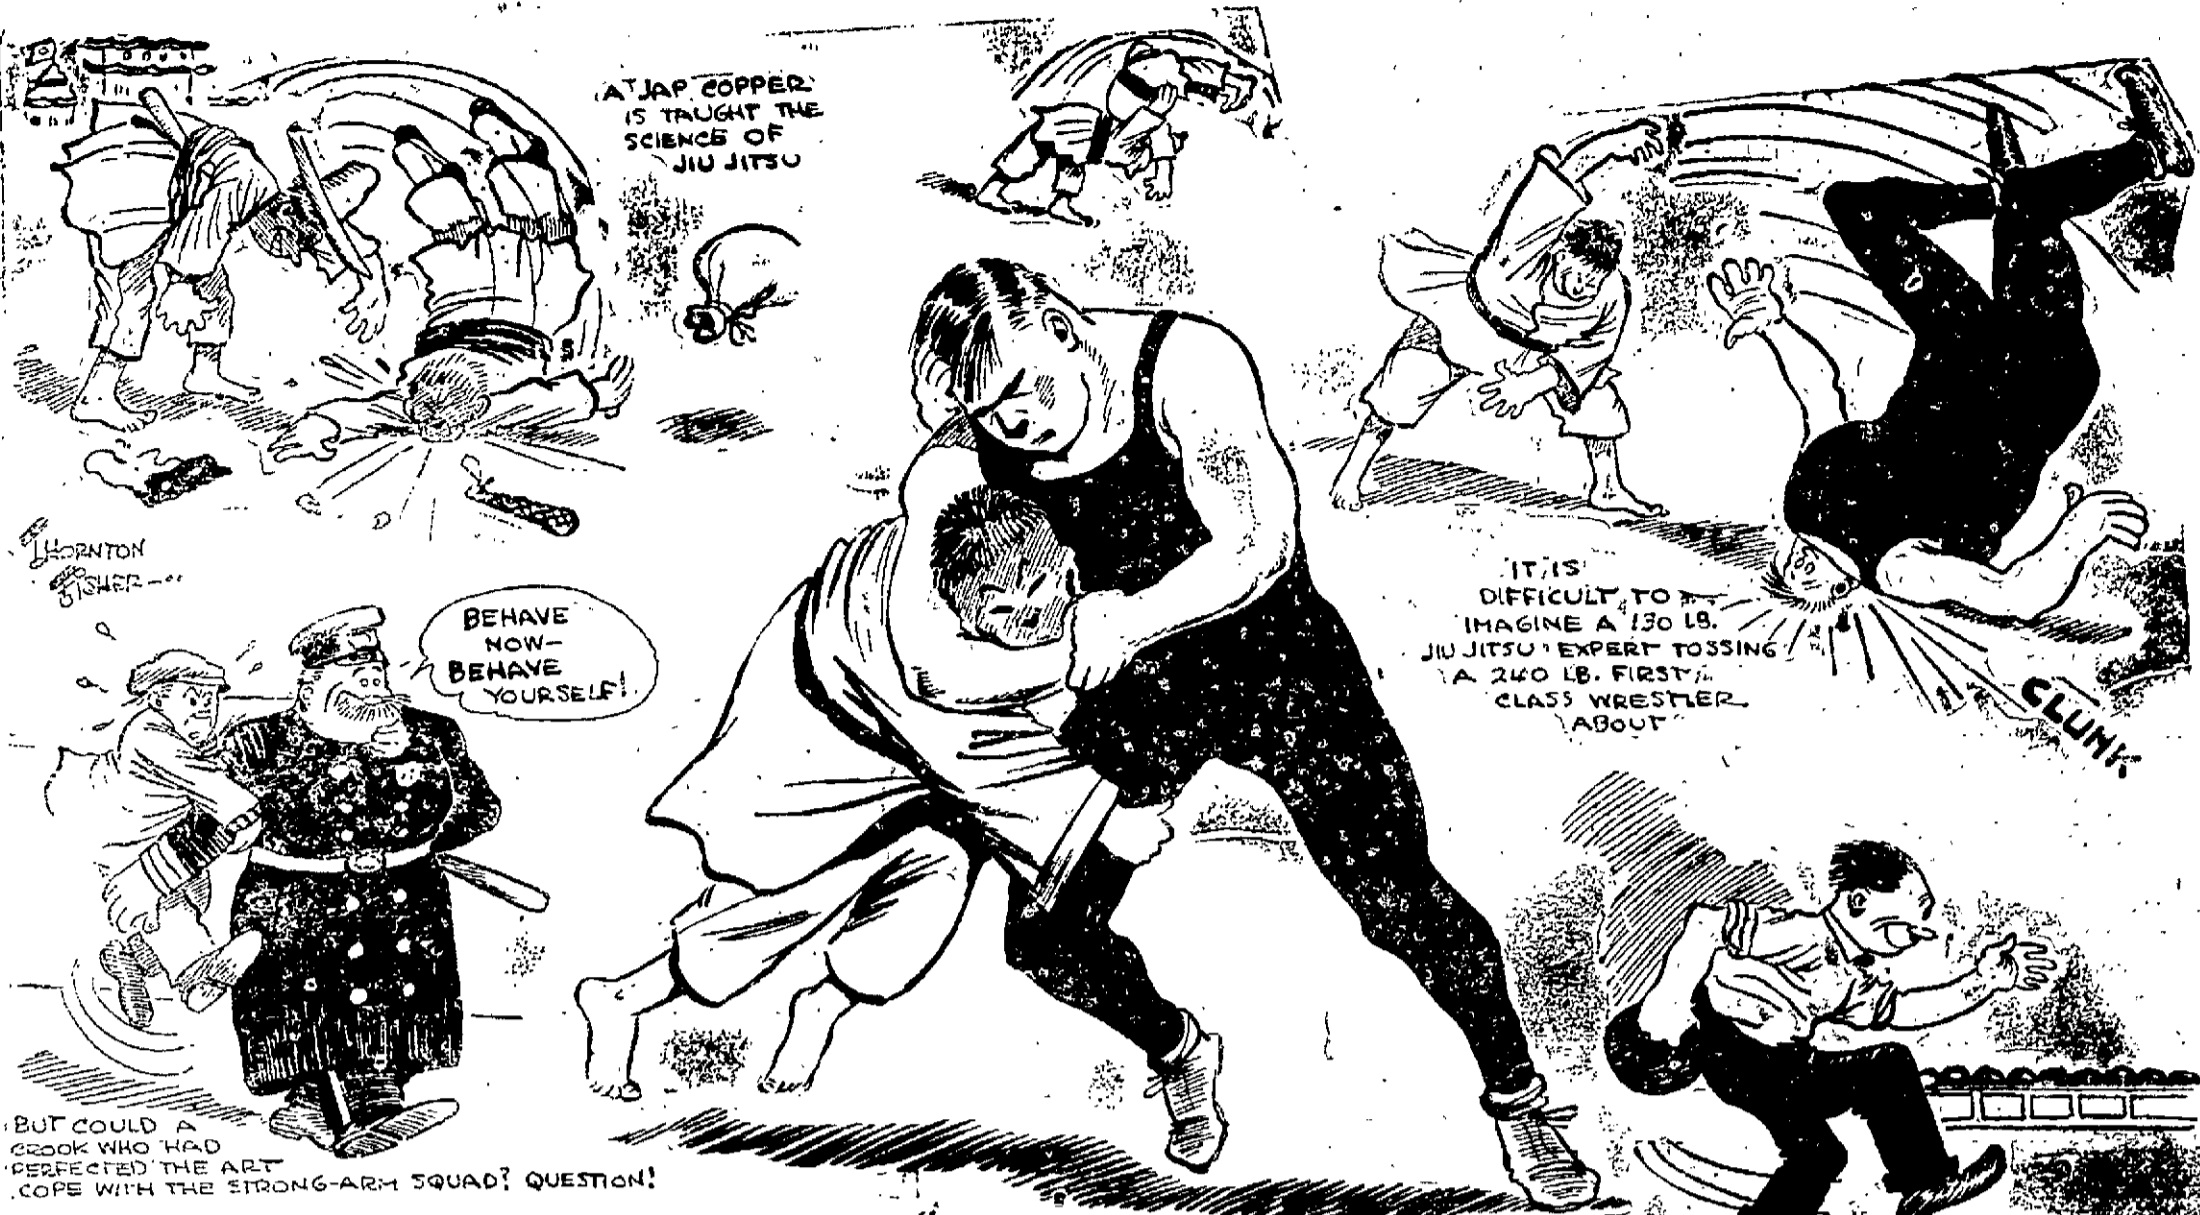

The best looking youngster I have seen in years," says Manager E. J. Morgan. "He has a powerful build, unless he develops some serious fault that has not as yet been uncovered. He reminds me of 'Bones' Ely, former star of the Pittsburgh team, one of the greatest shortstops in the game, has ever produced. In addition to wonderful natural ability he seems to have plenty of nerve."

Morgan is hoping that Fowler will repeat the success of his predecessor, Donahue, and that the recruit has a chance.

FOUNDER ACQUIRED

CINCINNATI, O., March 21.—Dan Donahue, former pitcher, acquired by the Cincinnati Reds, is being considered by the club as one of the brightest pitching prospects in the game. He worked on the mound yesterday during which he allowed only one run in five innings in the game between the regulars and the recruits. It is said to have assured him a thorough trial with the team.

WHICH!

Joe Turner Fails to Reach Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 21.—While Joe Turner, middleweight grappler, failed to put in his appearance at Neese hall last night for his scheduled bout with Joe Shinkus, Arkansas. The program was not marred for the 500 fans who had assembled at the hall were treated to several interesting matches during which Joe Shinkus held the spotlight. Turner, it is said, missed train connection and was unable to arrive in this city in time for the match.

Gus Anderson and Harry Nicholson were both pinned to the mat by the clever Shinkus, who has a large number of admirers here, judging by the applause given him last night. Anderson was thrown after 25 minutes of tussle by means of a cross body and scissors hold. Nicholson also was pinned to the mat by the same hold. However, it took Shinkus to do the job.

WILSON FIELD BEING CHANGED

LEXINGTON, Va., March 21.—Work on the enlarging of Wilson Field for the accommodation of the new Washington and Lee stadium and the building of additional football fields was resumed yesterday by the construction companies.

The northwest bank is being cut away to make room for the quarter mile cinder track being planned and for filling in the hole where the old grandstand stood. Work on the grandstand is being pushed forward at intervals during the winter but blasting and removal of dirt began again yesterday.

Preparations are being speeded up in order to allow for the preparations and the building of the new stadium in order that there may be space for the Washington and Lee University of Virginia football game to be staged in Lexington November 6. Plans have been received from the architects but the contracts have not yet been let.

1924 at the latest should see the completion of the stadium, quarter mile track and 2 1/2 mile archway. For the 1925 baseball season the infield is to be made out with the row of open bleachers. The fifth of a mile, red clay track will also have to be used again this season. When the weather sets in however the tracks and diamond should be in fair shape. Just now bad weather interferes with all outdoor athletics.

NURSE WHO FREED GIRL PRISONER TO ATONE BY SEEING THE CLOISTER

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 21.—To atone for having committed against the laws of society a religious devotion and penance for the remainder of her life was the pledge taken recently by Betty Arnold, a student nurse at the County Hospital, who on Christmas Day last gave Betty Arnold her freedom from the hospital where she was held a prisoner.

In order that she might carry out her plan to take the vows of a nun the District Attorney's office requested the felony charges against her be dropped when she appeared before Superior Judge McCormick for arraignment.

Because of the fact that the offense with which Miss Smith was charged was prompted by a mistaken idea of kindness, the authorities will accept her plan to enter an order of Sisters.

At the time the offense was alleged to have been committed Rosella Smith was a student nurse at the County Hospital and out of a spirit of Christmas allowed Betty Arnold to walk from her cell to freedom.

ARRANGING FOR SOLDIERS

(By The Associated Press) NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 21.—Colonel Smith, of the anti-crafts regiment of Maryland Volunteers and Major Paul Bunker of the regular army, have been at Fort Monroe for several days arranging for the stay of the Maryland anti-craft regiment. The Maryland anti-craft regiment is one of the crack military organizations of that State is expected to spend a month in training at Fort Monroe during July and August.

NEWARK TEAM IN REIDSVILLE

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Mar. 21.—Traveling in their private pullman train first consistment of the Newark (N. J.) baseball club of the International League arrived in Reidsville yesterday at noon.

The group included: Manager and catcher, Mickey Devine; Ben Fille-shifter, Olander, Delaney and Gene Tomlin, pitchers; Benes, Knothe, Zimman, Miller, Anderson and Sheridan, infielders; Manley, catcher and Chas. He See, outfielders; Baldwin, Kenisch and Jose Miller, pitchers; Jake Stahl, first baseman; Albans, outfielder; Jess Altenberg, outfielders; Sauder and Lute Barnes, pitchers.

Fred Brainerd will not be able to leave his home until April 2 and Wigglesworth will be the last of the bunch to report to the training camp in Reidsville. Wigglesworth is finishing up a law course at Georgetown and may not report until later at the home base.

Trainer Tom Fitzsimmons and Pitcher Vandermast were not with the team arriving today. Fitzsimmons underwent an operation for appendicitis a few days ago, and Vandermast has pneumonia.

Paul Widner will act as trainer of the club until Johnny Fitzsimmons, the regular trainer, recovers sufficiently to resume his duties.

Manager Devine is confident that he will be able to mould a fast aggregation from among this talent and the few other players that the club intends to add to the roster.

It is talked that the Bears still lack assigned shortstop, and indications are that Anderson will be used to fill in at second base at the start of the doings. Devine has no second-string catcher of established class to assist him, though Manley comes from Baltimore, well recommended.

Miller, who will guard first base, is well known for his fielding ability and base-running. He is not a slugger but a fairly dependable hitter.

Chad See, expected to play the stellar role of chief swatter with the Bears, this week signed his 1923 contract, setting at rest any doubts of his joining the club. See is the ex-Cincinnati outfielder and former International league clover and pitcher.

Ed. Tomlin, former Orange pitcher, had a conference with Bennie Moran Monday in Baltimore and it was latter announced that Tomlin would report later.

Red J. Park in Reidsville has been put in good shape and the bunch will probably go down today to unlimber.

CORB SCHOOL BEATS SEMORA

The Cobb school and Semora girls' basketball teams staged a contest at the local Y. M. C. A. last night which resulted in a victory for Cobb, the score being 13 to 2. Cobb played a spectacular game in passing. Lily King making half a dozen grandstand shots. Semora played a hard and fast game but were handicapped in size and experience. Margaret Long prevented a whitewash by a lone tally for Semora.

The line-up:

GOLF PRACTICALLY ONLY SPORT TO LACK STANDARDIZED BALL

Golf lacks one feature that is definitely fixed in practically every other sport, a standardized ball.

In many record-breaking rounds various kinds of balls are used, varying slightly in size and weight. There is no doubt that lack of standardization offers a chance for argument.

professional players, is that with a light ball, which will just carry so far, the veterans are able to get just as much distance as the younger players. This is not true with a heavier ball which has greater carry qualities.

It is possible, however, that the more honored by being assigned to the cleanup position in the lineup—fourth.

GUISO TO BAT IN CLEANUP

LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 21.—Honors are coming thick and fast to Louis Guisto this year. After being retained by Speaker in preference to the veteran star McInnes, Guisto is once more honored by being assigned to the cleanup position in the lineup—fourth.

The selection of Guisto may occasion some surprise to the fans who delve in the batting averages. Last season Guisto in 35 games batted only .250.

Speaker, however, feels that averages often mean little or nothing, and in the case of Guisto last year they mean nothing.

Gene Savaren Is At Turning Point In Golf Career

BY LAWRENCE PERRY (Copyright, 1923, The Bee)

NEW YORK, March 22.—The biggest hazard of his career confronts Gene Savaren today. Purley and simply it is a gambler's problem. Shall he remain in the United States and confine his efforts to defending his open championship and professional golfers association titles? or shall he also go abroad and take a shot at the British open title at Troon early in May? there is nothing to prevent an overseas trip except the contract at Briar Cliff. The impression exists that Briar Cliff engaged Savaren not for decorative purposes but for utility. This being the case the club may have a logical objection to that deprivation of Savaren's service which the English sojourn would entail. In fact such objection has been voiced, unofficially. There was a report today that Savaren formally requested Briar Cliff authorities for permission to go to England.

If the open championship does not appear that he is counting on a favorable decision. Savaren's situation briefly is as follows: being a professional golfer, a title means a great deal to him. Indeed, a title was never so valuable as now. As everyone knows championship title are not easy to come by. In tennis, for example, the champion between the top liners and those who would occupy his position is not too close.

And so with boxing and in fact practically all championship games. The champions are assured of a more or less lengthy tenure of his throne.

In golf it is practically the rule that champions do not repeat. This applies alike to the professional and amateurs. It follows therefore that the more titles Savaren goes after the better his chance of wearing some of a crown and thus holding his place in the public mind. Enter the British Open and the P. G. A. Tourney he has three chances at the same whereas if he remains in this country he has but two. It is doubtful, in view of this fact whether he would not be strongly tempted to go to Troon even in the face of the most definite objections by the powers that be in Briar Cliff lodge.

BOUT IS ARRANGED

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Jim (Her) man of Omaha, and Jack McAllister, of Detroit, were matched today by Tex Rickard to meet in a preliminary bout to the Jess Willard-Floyd Johnson bout at the Yankee Stadium May 12. They are light heavy-weights.

PROBE FATAL STABBING IN RICHMOND PEN

RICHMOND, Va., March 21.—Coroner J. M. Whitfield began an inquest at 2 o'clock this afternoon into the stabbing to death at the state penitentiary late yesterday by Willie Jones, colored, a life-terminer, by William McDaniel, colored, another life-terminer. Dr. Whitfield examined Jones' body yesterday and discovered that Jones had been stabbed through the heart. He at once ordered today's inquest.

The cutting affray took place at 4:30 P. M., just as the men were being placed in their cells, and was said to have been the result of bad blood which existed between the two for many months. A piece of scrap iron, modeled into a knife, was used by McDaniel, and had penetrated Jones' heart. The latter died a half-hour after being stabbed.

His Sixth Cutting Scrape. According to prison authorities this was the sixth cutting scrape Jones figured in. He was sent up thirteen years ago on a charge of having cut his step-father's throat and was sentenced to the electric chair, but his sentence later was commuted.

McDaniel, according to prison officials, has served two years of a life term for murder. This was said to be his second cutting scrape.

According to officials, prisoners at the penitentiary are searched at frequent intervals for weapons.

WANT AD LOVE AFFAIR LASTS HALF A CENTURY

AUBURN, N. Y., Mar. 21.—"Advertising pays." So declares Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Webb, of No. 1 Sherwood street, this city, who have lived together more than half a century as the result of small classified advertisements inserted in a village newspaper in Pennfield, N. Y., near Rochester.

It pays to advertise. That's the view of the husband, who sees no reason why a man cannot get just as good a wife through an advertisement as in any other way.

The romance began in Civil War days. Webb was born at Malone, near the Canadian border, and soon after the Civil War broke out he enlisted in the First New York Light Artillery at the age of fifteen.

In a moment of loneliness at the front, the lad sent an ad to the Literary Companion, published in Pennfield, asking for some girl to write him "for the fun of matrimony."

Little Susan E. Sharp, a winsome typewriter in the composing room of the Companion, saw the ad and, following a hasty impulse, wrote to the soldier.

A correspondence covering a period of 18 months was then started, the boy in the meantime fighting his way through 37 battles, many of them being among the bloodiest of the entire war.

In 1863 he obtained a 15-day furlough and hurried to the little hamlet near Rochester to claim the girl of his dreams. They were married at once, and the young groom went back to finish the fighting at the front. He battled throughout the war and was present at the surrender of Lee.

INDIANS ARE STILL ON RAID

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Mar. 21.—Four white settlers' members of a posse which left Blanding, San Juan County, last night to trail the Allen Canyon band of warlike Indians, failed to return this morning, according to word received here. The fate of the missing posse men is unknown.

At dawn today a new posse of 30 men left Blanding to continue the hunt for the Indians who are said to have taken refuge in the mountains north of the town where they are familiar with every trail and canyon. Upwards of 40 Indians are reported by the posse to have been placed under heavy guard to prevent any possibility of their joining with the renegade band.

Yesterday there was a running fight between the Indian band—said to number 12—and white posse men. The Indian youth known as "Joe Bishop's boy" was shot and instantly killed and two Indians were wounded. There were no casualties among the whites.

My Adventures In Hollywood

BY VIRGINIA BRADFORD (Special to The Bee)

HOLLYWOOD, March 22.—A famous motion picture casting director says nine of every ten Americans regard themselves as "born actors," needing only a chance to become stars.

This man and others who mold movie destiny have 20,000 names on file—people awaiting the call to film fame.

I am one of the 20,000. When I came to Hollywood, movie mecca of the world, I too felt that I needed only opportunity to make me sparkle.

Three incentives carried me here from my home in Memphis, Tenn. An immediate livelihood for myself and my five-month-old son, a life-fated marriage, craving for emotional expression stifled at home, and the vanity of youth which sees the screen as a setting for its splendid dreams.

You see, I am trying to be quite honest in writing down my feelings as well as my experiences in breaking into motion pictures, at the request of The Bee for whatever interest and guidance my stories may have for other girls hoping for a screen career.

Movie-Mad at 16. At 16 I had become movie-struck—that epidemic of the adolescent American girl. I imagined a "Beauty and Brains" contest, then running, had been arranged for my special benefit. I had even picked out the clothes I'd wear to Hollywood when I should be acclaimed as the winner.

Failure to get even honorable mention almost killed me, but I didn't eradicate all the virus, for here I was at 22 with the old ambition blazing anew.

My equipment was a high school education, a little business training, unlimited self-confidence and a modest wardrobe, enough money to last several months and a pair of gray eyes I thought effective, and a figure my friends considered petite.

"Dramatic experience" had been confined to a little dancing and home theatricals, from which so many egotistical girls rush blindly to Hollywood, meeting immediate stardom with its silks, limousines and mash notes. About the technique of acting I knew absolutely nothing. Even the word puzzled me.

So I stepped off the train with my baby boy, without a single acquaintance here and without any definite plan or idea how to proceed. I selected a boarding house on

ALBANIA SHUNS TURK RULE

TIRANA, Albania, March 21.—Little Albania, with her narrow strip of mountainous territory and her one million people, rebels against paying any of the debt of Turkey for the reason that the former Ottoman Empire, after collecting its tribute here, never so much as built a bridge, constructed a road, or erected a school.

According to the Albanian constitution, Albania is a republic, which has been meeting in laborious sittings since the New Year.

The sum assigned to Albania for payment was 750,000 gold francs, or about $150,000, but this sum, the deputies said, would make a very serious strain on the public finances.

Albania is still the wild and undeveloped country she has always been—without a mile of railroad, almost impassable roads and but one or two schools at most. The government, constituted on the order of a republic, is bending every effort to collect sufficient revenue to meet the annual expenditures, figured at 18,000,000 gold francs, or about $3,600,000, which represents but a fraction of what the United States government spends in a single day.

Though there is a great deal of Turkish influence left in this small and primitive country, the present tendency is to throw off all the Ottoman bonds and lean toward western civilization.

The Toy capital, located here, is now putting on the airs of a modern city by the establishment of legations and consulates. Both England and America maintain legations here, while Italy is represented by a consulate.

ECONOMY PLAN NOT TO IMPAIR POSTAL SERVICE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Postmaster General New has determined to do everything possible to conserve expenditures of the Postoffice Department to keep them within available funds but will do nothing "which will seriously impair" the postal service, it was asserted today after a conference he held with Assistant Postmaster General Barlett and Postmaster E. M. Morgan of New York.

Declaring a number of the difficulties confronted the postoffice department because funds available for appropriations for the current fiscal year were inadequate to conduct its business until July 1, Mr. New said new complications had been added by the adoption of the budget system.

"What we seek to do," he added, "is to find a way to meet the emergency without the means at our command and with the least possible inconvenience to the public. When it comes to the arrangement of details, as to how that is to be done, they must necessarily be left to the postoffice officials whose familiarity with the conditions enables them to what is to the best advantage."

VIRGINIA BRADFORD FINDS HOLLYWOOD APPARENTLY AMUSED AT HER AS JUST ANOTHER MOVIE-STRUCK GIRL

Hollywood boulevard because I imagined that would be within the studio "colony."

But instead of the concentrated cluster of magnificent buildings I had pictured I found the movie factories scattered over a vast area. To visit them one after another, even in a fast motor car, would require days.

And now the thing I had been so sure of seemed suddenly remote and intangible. To get the "feel" of the place, I spent days just wheeling my baby along the streets, trying to muster courage, to readjust my notions to the facts, and to formulate a plan

OLD CITY LAWS, DATING BACK TO 1742, FORBID SUNDAY WORK AND DRINK

LANCASTER, Pa., March 21.—Laborers in clearing out an old vault in the City Hall here accidentally discovered several volumes containing the minutes of Lancaster's burgesses, dating from 1742 down to 1818, when the charter, under which the city now operates, was obtained. They are of great historical value.

According to the borough ordinance, dated 1742, any person drinking in Lancaster on Sunday was fined one shilling six pence. An ordinance dated 1744 included a provision forbidding the galloping of horses through the streets, and also prohibited unnecessary work on Sabbath Day, except in the case of butchers.

MISSING GIRL SOUGHT

LYNN, Mass., March 20.—Police today are searching for thirteen-year-old Doris Wilson in connection with the branding of three-and-one-half-year-old William Smith.

The missing girl, had acted as a nurse for the child until shortly before his mother, Mrs. William Smith, found the letters "E B" branded on his thigh.

EIGHTEEN HOLES OF GOLF PLAYED

(By The Associated Press)

COCOA, Fla., Mar. 21.—Eighteen holes of golf set in between hours of sailing up the Indian River briefly tell today's story of President Harding's vacation. It was one of the most uneventful days the chief executive has had during the present visit to Florida.

The golf game was played at Melbourne, about 20 miles south of here. It was the president's second visit to Melbourne in two weeks, the party having stopped there for golf on the way down to Miami and the population of the little town showed their appreciation of the favor by turning out in a body to welcome Mr. Harding when he stepped ashore from the houseboat Pioneer about 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harding remained aboard the Pioneer but was said to have recovered entirely from the slight indisposition she suffered after leaving Miami.

The Presidential houseboat tonight was anchored several miles below here with the Victoria, the houseboat owned by former Senator Frelinghuysen, lying close by. The two houseboats parties visited back and forth during the cruise northward to-day, the members of the Frelinghuysen party being entertained at luncheon on the Pioneer and the president and the men of his party being the guests at dinner tonight of former Senator Frelinghuysen and Senator Hale of Maine, on the Victoria.

Because of some delay encountered yesterday morning, the schedule of the Pioneer was revised today to bring her into St. Augustine late Friday instead of tomorrow evening. If Mr. Harding elects to play golf tomorrow it will be at Daytona and even in that place, it probably will be necessary for him to motor on ahead of the Pioneer.

MUCH MONEY IS SPENT ON HIGHWAYS IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, T. H., March 21.—

Professor Frederick E. Turner, dean of engineering at the University of Wisconsin and a member of the Wisconsin Highway Commission, on a recent visit to Hawaii, was enthusiastic in his praise of the roads of the territory.

"It would scare me to think of putting $50,000 to $100,000 a mile into highways in Wisconsin," said the Professor when told that some of the main roads in the islands had cost that amount.

WRECK IS CAUSED BY TAMPERING WITH SWITCH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Mail-clous tampering with a switch on the main line of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway at St. Mary-of-the-woods, Indiana, the cause of the derailment of a passenger train there on February 6, safety inspectors reported today to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Why Fisco Fertilizers Are Superior and Incomparable

Phosphoric Acid, Nitrogen (commonly called Ammonia) and Potash are three necessary elements required for every crop. Of these three elements, AMMONIA IS THE MOST IMPORTANT AND THE MOST DIFFICULT TO SECURE IN A FULLY AVAILABLE FORM.

Ammonia is derived from Animal, Vegetable or Mineral sources, but Agricultural Colleges and farmers agree that ANIMAL AMMONIATES DERIVED FROM FISH MAKE THE BEST PLANT FOOD KNOWN.

The Fisheries Products Company are the largest producers of Fish Scrap Ammoniates in the world and manufacture a pure Fish Fertilizer in connection with other Fish Products.

Fish Scrap is actually worth more than double the market value of other Organic or Mineral Ammoniates. On this basis, the various brands of our famous FISCO Fertilizers are actually worth from $5.00 to $15.00 per ton more than other makes of fertilizers having the same analysis. This is the reason thousands of Southern farmers are able to testify THEY USE ONE-THIRD LESS OF THE FAMOUS FISCO FERTILIZERS and at the same time INCREASE THEIR CROP YIELD FROM 50 TO 100 PER CENT.

The Potash in our Tobacco Special is derived from imported German Sulphate of Potash exclusively.

VETERAN WYOMING SOLONS GET LOWEST PAY BECAUSE LAW PROHIBITS INCREASE. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Mar. 21—Experience and "seniority" are not compensated in the seventeenth Wyoming Legislature, in session here, and 12 members of the present body who are holdovers from the sixteenth general assembly are receiving only 38 per diem, while 13 members of the Senate and 60 members of the House are drawing $12 per diem.

The anomalous situation is caused by that section of the State constitution which forbids that the salary of a State officer shall be increased during his term of office—a provision designed to prevent officers authorized to fix salaries from taking advantage of their authority to benefit their pocketbooks.

The increase in salary was voted in the last Legislature.

COUNTY FARM AGENTS' ADVOCATED FOR HAWAII

HONOLULU, Mar. 21—Recommendations that a system of county farm agents similar to those in America be established in connection with the University of Hawaii, at the expense of the Territory, are contained in a report submitted to Governor Wallace R. Farrington by a committee of university professors on the marketing of Hawaiian produce.

Such a system prevailed in the islands during the war but since was abandoned. It is particularly designed to render assistance to homesteaders and small farmers.

CLARKSON CITY, Nev., Mar. 21.—Benton Stables, a historic landmark, best known as the starting place of Horace G. Cole on his famous stage-coach ride with "Hank" Monk, is about to pass. In late years the building has fallen into disrepair and was recently condemned. Situated in the shadow of the capitol building it was the meeting place of gamblers in other days and was noted for the pure-blooded animals that the stables quartered when Mackay Flood ran and O. Pierce the Big Four, ruled the gamblers' trade.

APRIL 20 BIRD DAY

(The Associated Press) RICHMOND, Va., Mar. 20.—Governor E. Lee Trinkle today issued a proclamation designating April 20 as Bird and Bird Day in Virginia. The governor urged the teachers and pupils in public schools of the state to observe the day with appropriate exercises with a view of increasing their knowledge of the value of birds in the process, for conservation of useful birds and trees.

DARING DEBATERS TOUR NATION BOOSTING BUFFALO

(Special to The Bee) BUFFALO, March 22.—You couldn't think of belonging to a debating club would imply heroism would you? But four youthful debaters of Canisius College here have embarked on the most hazardous enterprise ever undertaken in this country—not excepting Daniel Boone's explorations or cross-country airplane flights. These debaters are actually going into such booster-filled cities as Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Denver and San Francisco. And they're going to get right up in a public hall—Without police protection—Or secret services men—And they're going to tell the people of those cities that Buffalo is the best city in the world to live in! How's that for daring? The Canisius College debaters will meet picked debating teams in Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Denver and San Francisco and debate formally on the question: Resolved, that Buffalo's advantages for development are unexcelled. And they won't even carry a first-aid kit!

By WILLIAM R. DEATIE Extension Horticulturist, United States States Department of Agriculture

THE important factors in the reclamation of an apparently hopeless backyard soil for garden purposes are, first, drainage; second, the addition of something to lighten heavy clay soils, and, third, the addition of manure.

If all of these can be administered at the beginning, there should be no difficulty in growing fairly good crops the first season, but persons having a difficult problem in the reclamation of the soil of their backyards and other similar land on which gardens are to be grown, should not expect too much the first season, but make a definite plan covering a period of years.

The reclamation of backyard soils which are cold and wet and in need of drainage sometimes is not an easy matter, but calls for a well-defined program of improvement.

It may be difficult to find a method for getting rid of the water that is to be drained out of the soil. It often happens, however, that a connection can be made to the sewer that drains the house and that takes care of the water from the roof of the dwelling.

This connection is often in the form of a surface or sink drain in the backyard near the kitchen door.

In case there is such an opening line of ordinary open-joint tiles may be laid at intervals of every seven or eight feet and at a depth of 18 to 24 inches, with a decided fall toward the point where they connect to the main drain and there will draw the surplus water from the soil, getting rid of it in the sewer.

Another method of securing drainage, one that may be used where it is impossible to secure an outlet for the drains, is to throw the soil up in beds leaving drainage furrows between the beds, these furrows emptying into a ditch at one end of the garden and the water being carried to some lower level.

The more raising of the soil in beds, even though there be no direct outlet for the water, will result in the soil being of considerable help.

The second problem in reclaiming backyard soils will be to get the soil in better mechanical condition. This may be accomplished, first, by loosening it up in the fall of the year and leaving it thus exposed to the freezing and thawing of the winter months as the alternate freezing and thawing breaks up the lumps and soil particles.

Another method, and one which can be used on extremely heavy clay soils, is to apply from three inches to one foot of material such as manure, leaves and coarser materials have been sifted, and mixing this with the soil to a depth of six or seven inches. An application of lime at the rate of 30 to 40 pounds on a space 24x60 feet in size will also help to loosen the soil. This should be done in the fall, while the land is being fitted for planting.

We should not expect a complete stable yard soil for the most important factor in the reclamation of backyard soils is the addition of the ordinary backyard will not be any too much, and this may be put on at any time during the fall or spring, but should be well mixed with the soil itself. As time goes on and crops are grown upon the backyard soil, the roots of these crops and organic matter and then from time to time weeds can be chopped fine and worked into the soil to add organic matter. It is also a good plan to sow rye, barley, or some similar crop on the garden during the late summer and allow it to remain as a cover crop all winter, spading under the crop early in the spring for the purpose of improving the soil.

DEAVER CHARGED WITH DESERTION

(By The Associated Press) ORLANDO, Fla., March 21.—Daniel Deaver, fruit player, with the Cincinnati National League Club in training here, was arrested today charged with desertion from the United States Army. Deaver admitted the charge. It was reported, however, that Deaver's release from the army in February, 1922, and served ten months, being stationed at Fort McDowell, on the Pacific Coast. He declared a scout for the club promised to obtain his release from the army.

FIRST GAME OF SEASON ON SAT.

The first game of baseball here this season will be played Saturday at Stoneywell Jackson Park between the High School nine and an all-star team made up for the most part, of former high school players. The High School squad has been out on the field for the past week getting the kinks out of their throwing arms, acquiring some of the knack of making hits one of the diamond, getting the old swing back and learning how to do a number of things. The game Saturday is by way of being a practice game, but at the same time, since it is to be the first contest of the Spring it is expected that there will be a large crowd.

WOULD FIX EASTER DATE

LONDON, March 21.—An effort is being made by a number of Englishmen led by Lord Desborough to obtain a general agreement on the question of a fixed date for Easter. Lord Desborough recently stated that a motion to this effect will be offered at the next meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce on the ground that the variance of Easter is inconvenient not only to business people, but also to the legal profession and to schools and universities. He will leave next month for Rome to ask the Pope to consider the matter. It is understood that the heads of the Church of England have already been approached on the subject, but answered that they had not the power to change the present system. It has been suggested that the second Sunday in April should be fixed as the immutable date.

BOSTON WOMAN DEVOTED 14 YEARS TO STARTING WAYWARD GIRLS RIGHT

BOSTON, Mar. 21.—Miss Lillian M. Brown, director of foster homes under the auspices of the Boston Society for the Care of Girls, has resigned after fourteen years of faithful service. During that period she has influenced for the better the lives of 1,527 wayward girls by gaining their confidence and showing them a new path to success in material and moral ways. Her work has brought her thousands of letters from girls who have been cheered by her thoughtfulness.

$30,000 AWARDED BOY FOR LOSS OF SIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 20.—Damages aggregating $40,000, the largest ever recorded in local courts in a personal injury suit, were awarded by a jury today in the case of nine-year-old Chester Gesek and his father, Seymour Gesek, against the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad. The verdict gave the boy whose eyesight was destroyed by an explosion of dynamite, $30,000, and his father $10,000 as compensation for expenses and the loss of the child's earnings until he shall have reached the age of 21. Young Gesek was one of four boys who in June, 1921, found several sticks of dynamite and placed them on top of a boiler. Gesek was the only boy injured in the explosion. The accident was alleged to have occurred

$16,500,000 COST OF A MODERN BATTLESHIP

LONDON, March 21.—The cost of building a first-class battleship in 1914 was approximately 500,000 pounds sterling or about $2,500,000, but the cost of a similar ship today is about 3,300,000 pounds, or about $16,500,000, according to Commander Fares-Mongell, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty. Explaining this increase the expert says, "It must be borne in mind, however, that a modern capital ship embodies features found necessary in the light of war experience which involve a considerably greater tonnage, offensive and defensive armament, and consequently cost."

Gentlemen:

Referring to your inquiry, I have been saw-milling about 35 years, doing sawing, mostly with steam power up to 100 h. p.

I get more lumber for less cost out of a Fordson tractor and Turner saw mill than any other outfit I ever handled.

I can average 4,000 ft. per day with three men and using twelve gallons of kerosene.

Yours very truly,

(Signed)
